The way you have been working with Tally has become a history

Since today these were the only options available for you to work with Tally

- You had to go to your office to work on Tally
- You had to call up office for any information as per available time of your accountant
- You had to get a copy of Tally data home to work or review peacefully
- You had to take a copy of Tally data to your auditor's office for finalization
- You had to get reports in mail or even print daily, weekly as may be required
- You had to synchronize multiple branch data for consolidation of accounts
- You had to take continuous backup of Tally data as you don't know when it may crash

These ways became history now like fountain pens and analogue phones. Now you can open and work on Tally instantly from anywhere and get up-to-date information or reports without need for synchronization or calling somebody. And most surprisingly, you just don't need even Tally software on your system. No barriers. No dependencies. No limitations. No hassles. No data crashes. No virus issues. Do it your way with peace of mind!

The future is already here. Work on Tally from anywhere now.

The boundaries of your office will no longer be relevant. You can get real-time information on any function at aggregated or transaction level remotely from the centralized database. Your data will reside in your premise or cloud or both as per your choice and comfort. You will be identified as a user and provided the necessary range of information and options as per your eligibility keeping it safe and secure.

Your business information has been made easily accessible for you anytime, anywhere with power to transform your business size and shape with faster and effective decisions. This will definitely accelerate your business growth and performance. So, your business doesn't need you at a specific location, instead, it will come straight to you wherever you are.

No additional software or additional setup is required. Just your computer and an Internet connection will be enough. You can work from anywhere with ability to give flexible functionality based on the login levels. Highest possible data transmission security adapted.

It can work wonders in a way, nobody couldn't have even imagined before.

- Work on Tally without having Tally installed on local machine
- Just a click away simple Operation with excellent speed & performance
- Maintenance free dedicated infrastructure as a service
- Simultaneous data entry from multiple remote branches
- Centralized Data without need for Synchronization
- Local Printing on any printer without any hassles
- Central deployment of Security & Control features
- Instant cash flow visibility with up to the minute status for faster decisions
- Accept and confirm orders while sitting with a customer
- Transfer stocks, Effect deliveries, verify balances, collect payments on the move